

ISSA UK Chapter 2011 – Officer Nominations

This documents outlines the ISSA UK Member that have been nominated for Chapter Officers in the 2009 ISSA UK elections.

Voting instructions will be sent out to individual ISSA UK members in good standing near the 17th of October 2011.

Nominations for ISSA UK Chapter Treasurer - position in 2 year term (Jan 2012- Dec 2013)

The following member have been nominated for the position of ISSA UK Chapter Treasurer:

Roger Ellis

Previously I served as the IT Director for the FTSE 100 Company Blue Circle for some 12 years and am a past Chairman of both BCS Elite and the London Branch of the International Wine & Food Society.

Currently I am the incumbent as the Treasurer for the UK Chapter of the ISSA, as well as having a daytime role as running three small businesses, Black Raven Limited, the Great British Business Alliance and Abby Solutions of the UK.

I also serve as a Court Assistant for the City of London Livery Company, the Information Technologists', and am a Freeman of the City of London.

I have much enjoyed the past four years as Treasurer and hope you will support my application to serve for another two years.

Nominations for ISSA UK Officer-at-Large - positions in 2 year terms (Jan 2012- Dec 2013)

The following members have been nominated for one of two position's of ISSA UK Chapter Officer-at-large:

Federico Charosky

I'm an Information Systems Engineer specialized in Information and Network Security Consulting with over 9 years of experience. Throughout my career I worked with Organizations of various industries and sizes, including over 30 Fortune 500, and have had experience leading highly specialized groups and projects.

Currently, I'm the Director of Sponsorship for ISSA-UK, as well as Head of Security Consulting for a consulting firm called Vacta.

Previously I served as Security Consultant for firms such as Core Security Technologies, Deloitte, PWC and Trend Micro.

I sincerely enjoy my role as Director of Sponsorship with ISSA-UK and feel that there is still a lot of work to be done; I would be honored to be the elected person to do it.

Leslie Alexander Fraser (Les)

I have worked in IT since the 60's and have been an Information Security specialist for more than 20 years, including a number of years as head of Information Security in a large government department.

Now semi-retired, I work as a freelance CLAS consultant, working mostly in the police and criminal justice area. For several years I worked with the BCS to position them as a player in Information Security.

I have a great deal of experience to bring to ISSA and I am happy to stand for election as an officer of ISSA in 2011. Since being elected as an officer of ISSA in 2009, I have acted as the representative for the Scottish region, and I would be happy to continue in this role if I were to be re-elected.

Gabe Chomic

I'm an experienced infosec pro and have been actively involved in the UK chapter for the last three years. In past lives I've done in-depth security engineering and executive-level risk assessment & audits across 14 countries. A key passion of mine is ensuring security evolves to keep pace with emerging business and socio-political environments. In furtherance of that, I have an MSc (Distinction) from the LSE, focusing on socio-organizational information systems. My personal interests include the integration of privacy and identity with traditional approaches to security. I currently serve as the ICT Security Manager for Action for Blind People, the UK's second largest visually impaired person's charity. While accreditations are only a small part, I hold and am authorised to be a mentor for three SANS GIAC certifications, and am a CISA.

I bring to the ISSA board insight into both SME and global trends, given current and past working experiences, and a broad understanding of mobile technology. My educational background adds a broad spectrum of social, theoretical and managerial frameworks. For the last nine months I've led the ISSA-5173 SME working group and served on the ISSA-UK Management Committee as Director of Partner Development. To this end we are looking to hold several partner events over the next year. I also work closely with the Charity Security Forum and am involved in the local dc4420 and RANT groups. I look forwards to using my experience and knowledge to bring the ISSA-UK Chapter forward for the next two years.

Nicolas Mautner

Looking forward to continue his participation in ISSA, Nic has a long experience in the Information Security arena -both in technical and management roles- and many years membership and collaboration history in ISSA including founder and chapter president for ISSA Argentina, CPAC for Latin America, the ISSAs Awards Committee, Academic Congress committee and others. This has been complemented by obtaining certifications like CISSP, CEH, ISO 27001 Lead Auditor, and many years of academic experience. Nic has also recently been appointed senior member of ISSA